

from ye myddys of September unto ye myddys of December is oppyn tyme of plantyng and yet from ye myddys of January unto ye myddys of aprel is right tyme if gode wylle when ye ayone is very dry or 10 dayes cleare wether plene lune / xxij . xxiii . xxiiii . xxv . xxvi . xxvii . xxviii . xxix . xxx . xxxi . it is if gode wylle to graffe in or in dayes before ye charynge ye. for plantyng of al maner thyng / ye day of ye charynge / ye secunde and ye iii^{de} be ye best dayes

Onnte a pottle of welsh in ye erth in a longe putte lyke a fardle, and lette hit growe, yam a bone in make hole endelonge, in whar dyffer put smale byndes of a milbery tree ente in wyse of weggys at plantynge endis to stonde iuste in ye dyffer, in soy hole wyse fast with erth, and hyde ye stobbe wel wth and noon ower tree that peryshe yat is planted in this wyse // After ye first yere oz ye seconde yere salbe albye ye bramchis with a sharpe salve, and transplante him in apte places // gyfte a bare place ye quantite of ii fygis brede in a fard bolle of apperence oz perstee, elaye hit, and hit fast with moiste as ye doo in graftynge, and so lette it growe al ye yere, and yere wol rise a greet and ye next yere ye may unbynde it, and see it wher ye desireth, and thus may ye haue a garden in tyme / if goetnesse of a gode stasse Take longe roddys dynde and sette him in a mygy grounde or in a mygste grounde by elbene the .ii. sey many dages, and than a none vpon asyhelmasse sleve ye gatter ende and ynt ye wyse downe in ye erth, and so lette him growe, and in any fore whan seson cometh sette a grasse, and so let it wth al ye next yere, than salbe of eny knotte and in tyme of seson sette him, and within .i. oz .ii. y^{rs} ye may haue a fygis gardyne without cothe that wol beu ye second oz ye iii yere selfynghly Slyshtis also of trece sette in tyme of yere wol beu some, but it wol be longe oz they be greet Take ye harde peppyns of rose yat ben ripe, and solbe him in ye erth in steinel oz in marche, d whan yey sprynge delbe him wel with water, and after a yere complete y^r mayste transplante h delbe a bone ye rose's ye space of an hande brede oz .ii. and mygste her syngys with warme lye so mayste y^r haue rose tyndy.
 Synde Onyon seide oz lebe seed in a softe lymmen cloute, wete him wel and yntte in ye erth mo in fygis depe, so shal thay wege greet Grasse on an holme tree a grasse of an Oke, and it shal be grene wynt and somer